ALFONSO WILL HANDLE MATTERS SATISFACTORILY

Portugal May Join in the Proposed Insurrection Against A King.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madrid, Aug. 2.—The Liberal press officially denies the insinuations of the Vatican that it only demanded the withdrawal of the bill prohibiting religious orders from the concordat at had been evolved, and also points out the bill in question had not violated the concordat, which recognizes only three orders.

The Liberal says the Pope is now saying what will be repeated in following the advice of the two Spanish cardinals.

LA FOLLETTE CALLS IN OUTSIDE HELP

Speakers of Prominence in Insurgent Ranks to Aid Wisconsin Senator.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Aug. 2.—Another name was added today to the galaxy of nationally prominent men who will speak in Wisconsin in behalf of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, when it was announced at his headquarters that Senator Joseph L. Bristow will stump in this state for a week, beginning on Aug. 8. Senator Bristow's itinerary has not yet been arranged, and it is not even known where he will speak first, but it is believed he will spend most of his time in the southern part of the state. Senator Bristow was one of the original insurgents, and much gratification is expressed at the progressive headquarters that he has consented to help out his colleague.

Another noted speaker, who will be in the state during the second week of this month is H. W. Byers, attorney general of Iowa. Mr. Byers for fifteen years has been a leader among the progressives in the Hawkeye state and recently almost defeated Walter L. Smith for re-nomination for congress. He is credited with having caused the ex-sec and anti-vice laws of Iowa to be enforced for the first time, when he took office.

It is not now believed that Senator La Follette will make his expected speech in Milwaukee this week, and the impression is growing that the senator, personally, will do comparatively little, if any, speaking in his own behalf during the primary campaign. Information as to his physical condition is scarce here, and none of those closest to him will talk for publication regarding his physical condition. However, various things have happened, tending to show that Mr. La Follette has not recovered from his malady, which is something akin to gallstones. There are those who believe he will not appear personally in the campaign at all. It is known that he has not left his Maple Bluff farm to go to his office in this city more than once or twice since his return from Washington.

HARPER TO MAKE A RACE FOR ASSEMBLY

Prominent Madison Physician Will Be La Follette Candidate for Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Aug. 2.—Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary of the state board of health and vital statistics, will be a republican candidate for the assembly for the first district of Dane county. Announcement to this effect was made last night. Dr. Harper has been subjected to much pressure by La Follette leaders to make the run against Dr. Frank Smith of this city, a retired dentist, who is the present incumbent. Smith was a strong Stephenson supporter at the last session and is closely allied with the standard campaign committee.

The decision of Dr. Harper to make the campaign against Smith is all that is needed to ensure one of the hottest political fights in the history of Dane county. Dr. Harper is a member of an old and prominent Madison family. He has long been one of Senator La Follette's warmest friends. His brother, J. C. Harper, of this city, was associated with Mr. La Follette in the practice of law, as was another brother, Samuel A. Harper, deceased, at an earlier date. He succeeded Dr. C. O. W. Wingo of Milwaukee as secretary of the state board of health and vital statistics in 1908.

MODERN SAMSON IS COMING.

World's Strongest Man Will Soon Be Seen in Janesville

The strongest man in the world is Arthur Saxon. He has proved it to the scientists of Europe. He proved it to the people of New York City. He will prove it to the people of Janesville where he comes on Saturday, Aug. 13, with Rhuggling Brothers' World's Greatest Show.

Arthur Saxon can lift a 375-pound dumbbell above his head with one hand. No other man was ever able to do this. He and a brother lie on their backs and with their feet support a bridge over which passes an automobile with six passengers. Two of his brothers perform with him. They are very nearly as strong.

Arthur Saxon alone lies on his back and with his feet holds a plank on which sit twelve men. With his hands he holds a 200-pound dumbbell and his two brothers. The combined weight is 2,500 pounds. During the Madison Square engagement an official test was made by prominent physical culture professors of the city. All of these expert judges pronounced the Saxon brothers absolutely superior to all other strong men.

They were born in Saxony. This is their first time in this country. The magazines of America have all told their wonderful history. Scientists have been amazed by their superhuman powers. They are vegetarians and use no tobacco or intoxicants.

HISTORICAL AND AUTHENTIC.
American history is shown in authentic pictures with Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far West and the student or reader will find an abundance of interesting material unfolded before them in the pages of entertainment. The historic battle scenes, based upon fact; the scenes of Western lawlessness; the Indian attacks, and other incidents depicting life on the plains will afford interesting topics of study. It must be remembered, too, that in several particulars the Wild West is presenting factors which will in a few years be impossible to reproduce: the American Indian, the last of their race; the buffalo, erstwhile monarch of the plains, now almost extinct; Western range horses, and the American cowboy. The feeling of the cowboy is fast disappearing with the necessity for cowboys and horses in the vast numbers which were required when the plains were "boundless." In this decade we are seeing the last distinct attributes of a declining era; the old West is now no more; its reminiscences are already few, and shortly will have passed entirely from view, as does the old scout, Buffalo Bill, on this his final visit to our city.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

TAKE the flower back, dear," said an impulsively sweet voice behind me as I sat in the park the other afternoon.

I looked around instinctively, and saw the lady of the sweet voice sitting on the grass next me with a baby in her arms and a boy of six or seven standing beside her. The baby had a big pink rose in her hand and the boy stood frowning at her.

"Take the rose back, dear," said the sweet voice again. "You know we never give things up when we can't give them up happily. You can't let little sister have the rose and be happy yourself so you must take it back."

"That I don't want to take it back," I said.

"Yes, dear, you must. You know that's mother's rule. Mother wants you to be unselfish, but not unless you can be pleasant too. People who are unselfish and from all the time aren't nice. Mother doesn't want that kind of a boy"—and the lady of the sweet voice twisted baby's unwilling fingers from the flower and gave it back to the boy.

Wasn't she a wonderful mother—to realize and try to teach her children the big, big lesson that frowning self denial is of comparatively little value in this world—that it's self denial plus a smile that counts.

I think she must have had a very pretty bitter experience with the wrong kind of self denial to lay such stress on the right kind. Doubtless she had lived with one of those dove folk whose unselfishness is harder to get along with than cheery folks selfishness.

I once knew a woman who was a very bad case of this type. She considered herself a Christian, but her Christianity was only strong enough to attain the self denial without ever reaching to the smile. She was forever denying herself and looking down about it. I happened to be at her home during a week when she had given up a long desired trip because both she and her sister couldn't go and she felt her sister needed the change the more. Yes, of course, that was very good of her. But didn't it almost, if not quite, nullify that goodness that her sister looks and sighs and tears fits made the week a most unhappy one for the rest of the family?

There is a girl among my acquaintances who is perpetually petted and entered to and waited upon as an only child. The prettiest room in the house is hers. Her father and mother and aunt wait on her by inches. The best of everything is always saved for her. She is absolutely selfish but she is happy. She may be less moral than the other woman but I think I'd be just as ready to live with her.

And best you think I myself am a bit unusual in my preference for happy selfishness to unhappy self-sacrifice let me refer you to a very great and much loved apostle of this doctrine of "self denial plus a smile or not at all."

"Noble disappointment, noble self denial are not to be admired, not even pardoned if they bring bitterness. It is one thing to enter the kingdom of heaven unadorned; another to make yourself and stay without. Gentleness and cheerfulness, these come before all morality; they are the perfect duties."

—Robert Louis Stevenson.

New Embroidery Trimmed Hats to Accompany White Dresses.

Fresh and dainty as can be, are the of the delicate "blind" embroidery on summer hats of white straw trimmed with blue. Of course, the embroidery with embroidery. The hat shape is charmingly so arranged that it may usually very simple and the trimmings taken off frequently and laundered, consists of a crushed band and a few soft traces of the holes resulting big soft bow or chain of very fine from hatpin threads utterly spoil the broodery. Angled, or eyelet work; or beauty of such a hat.

THE HOUSEHOLD AID
BY ROSE TERRILL

Cool things to eat and cool things to drink is the demand that comes in these hot days. While thinking of cool things to drink at this time it is wise and housewifely to remember that next year is on us before we know it, and lay in a stock of pleasant flavors for the deluge of early spring, before the advent of fruit in sufficient quantities to make them possible to the person of ordinary habits.

Among the necessities in the summer should be a mould for packing moulds and frozen puddings of various kinds. They are not expensive, and it is a good thing to have at least two shapes. The mould and the square are best for ordinary use.

An ice cream freezer is also part of the equipment of the housewife who desires to please and yet not be extravagant. When preserving there is often a great deal more of fruit juice than is necessary. To a few cups of the richly flavored syrup, add the juice of one lemon and the whites of two eggs well beaten and then freeze. This makes a cool and delicious ice. Just before serving to the table some of the fresh fruit which has been chilled should be strewn over the top of the ice cup.

Nearly all fruit lees should have the addition of lemon juice as otherwise they will be flavorless. Sugar to a point that is too sweet before freezing will be all right when frozen.

The mousses is one of the most delicious and easily prepared cool desserts. It may be made before the rest of the dinner is started and will be a welcome finish to the dinner on a hot day.

In whipping cream be sure that every thing is ice cold. The cream which is rather thin with whip under such conditions. A clever egg whip is best though some housekeepers prefer the churn as making a more solid cream.

For a rather fancy dessert line mould with any desired flavored ice cream. If the mould has been thoroughly chilled this is easily accomplished. Then fill with either a mousses or with whipped cream well flavored and with chopped nuts or preserved fruits in it, and pack in the ice and salt and allow it to stand about three hours. It may then be turned out on a large platter and sliced.

To make mousses and other puddings pack in a mixture of ice and salt in the proportion of four parts ice to one part of coarse salt.

To make cream use ice and salt in the proportion of three to one for making a smooth cream. For less half and half will be best. The ice should be broken rather than packed firmly about the freezer. Do not drain the water from the mixture until the cream is frozen. Then drain and pack down solidly and leave for several hours to ripen. To serve it may be slipped from the freezer in a solid round if it has been packed smoothly. If it resists the efforts to bring it out in form, when the outside of the can with a cloth which has been wrung out of hot water. This is nearly always advisable as the danger of salted cream is lessened.

Do not forget in packing moulds with cream or other mixtures to freeze, that if the top is covered with oil paper and the mould is lifted so that it overflows, all interstices will be avoided.

Your competitor cannot harm you—unless you let him. As much energy as you spend in watching his business—just as much the less will you have for pushing your own. Your hardest competitor is, in a sense of the word, your best friend. He is helping to draw the public's attention to the sort of goods you are trying to sell. If you play your own game in your own way, you will have about as merry a little bunch of work as you can manage.

THE PATH OF GLORY.

By MARY RUSSELL

A party of young people, merry, merrily, entered and moved away over the water in sunset glow. The great red sun went slowly down in a glory of purple and rose colored clouds and then the trail of light across the water was of wonderful brilliancy and beauty.

When the purple light faded, the friends met and asked each other: "Did you see the path of glory?" It led straight across from one boat to the sun.

They had traveled in many different directions, yet each saw the path leading straight from the boat to the sun. To each it was a beautiful and personal manifestation of the wonderful beauty of the universe.

So it is when a group of students graduate from college. Each sets out alone, or in company with some chosen companion to row away into the open sea of life. From the boat of each stretches the path which is golden with hopes and brilliant with promises and all paths lead to the sun. The ultimate goal. The crown of glory and of life.

Clouds fall across the path. Storms rattle it. The twilight blots it out and yet it is there. In the heart is the certain knowledge that it is there and, if we will but strive, we may reach the goal of our high hopes and longed for joys.

To each it seems a path for him alone. It lies at his feet, but to all the other seekers for great achievement it comes also.

Even in storm and stress, if but a ray of light lifts through the clouds, we see the glory of the path.

It is for us to keep in mind that it is there even when the clouds darken the way.

Hearts that beat high with hope will never forget the vision. Lives that are full and sincere with striving will not stray from the path because the rays are shut off for some brief space.

They have seen the vision—these youthful souls—and its rays lighten the way when clouds and storms cover all the brightness.

Only the scatter forgets. Only the weak will deny the hope and possibility of the path being there for those who will to follow.

Built on earnest endeavor—of love—of hope and of high purpose, it will lead to the crowning of life with glory—if we do not forget. If we will keep our faith in ourselves and the straight road then we will find the way even through the darkest hour.

It is not a dream. It is not just a bit of sunshine. It is a wonderful power given to man alone. The power to hope and the strength to find the way—if he will.

Farm Pump Engine $70

This wonderful Fuller & Johnson Gasoline Engine costs less than a windmill, yet it does the work of ten. It always runs—no waiting for winds that don't blow. It will start with a 1000-pound lift on the sucker rod and keep up a steady gait of 30 to 35 strokes to the minutes until the gasoline gives out.

We have never yet found a pump big enough or a well deep enough to worry this engine. Fits any pump—only four common nuts to tighten. We even furnish the wrench. It's self oiling. The simplest, neatest, strongest and most adaptable engine on the market. It couldn't be made better for the work intended even if it cost twice as much. Come in and look it over and see our engines of all sizes.

NOW FOR THE HARVEST.

Not so many years ago the republican party became divided upon a strictly personal issue. As time went on this breach became wider and wider, and the division more pronounced. Opponents called each other hard names and bitter factional politics existed. Today the re-organization of the republican party of the state has been commenced in earnest and the old cry of factionalism, the war cry of "God's Patient Poor" are things of the dark ages only recounted in history. There are newspapers in the state who do not know that the war is over, which delight in talking of Tory and Bourbon organs, but they do it for merely advertising features, not because they believe what they print. The time for peace has come and under the banner of "Loyalty to Taft," to the republican party, a re-organization, devoid of factionalism, has begun and it is to be hoped that there will be no attempt to revive the old warfare in any section of the state.

THE MARINE CORPS.

President Roosevelt was not successful in his effort to remove the marines from the battleships, and his failure is openly attributed now to the great influence exercised by officers of the marine corps stationed in Washington. It is a peculiar fact that the marine corps has been closely identified with life in Washington for many years. One instinctively thinks of Washington when the marine corps, or anything relating to it, is mentioned. This, no doubt, is in large part due to the fact that the marine band was for years a part of the White House equipment. Like President Knott, who won nation-wide celebrity in his speech on Duluth as "the zenith city of the unsated sons," Carl H. Harrison, the older, of Chicago, then a member of congress, literally sprang into national distinction through his speech in defense of the White House marine band concerts.

But there is another reason why the marine corps and the national capital are so closely associated in the public mind. A custom that had become almost traditional assigned officers of the marine corps in large numbers to "desk service" and made them eligible to the performance of social duties in Washington. It is asserted that it was the influence of these officers that caused the defeat of President Roosevelt's anti-marine corps movement. However this may be, their recent transfer to distant posts will prevent the exercise of any such organized influence in the future, and if another anti-marine corps movement should be set going, and it seems likely that one will be, there is very grave danger, indeed, that the marine corps will suffer the extinction that has long been threatened and skillfully avoided.

For sentimental reasons the abolition of the marine corps will be widely regretted. But regarded entirely in a practical light there is said to be no longer any particular use for this branch of the service.

ASSEMBLYMAN WHITTET.

In commenting upon the assembly candidates that have already entered the field, a Milwaukee paper that is not always fair as regards many political candidates, has the following to say of Assemblyman L. J. Whittet of the first assembly district of Rock county.

"Mr. Whittet was one of the hardest working members of the legislature in 1909, making an enviable record during the session. In addition to this he was immensely popular with all his fellow members. Even in cases where they did not agree with him on measures before the assembly there was never any hard feelings, for so far as he was concerned, after the fight was over, it was a matter of common comment that if Mr. Whittet remained in politics he would be one of the factors later in state affairs."

Oh, his heart is sore as he does his chore, and dies in the mellow dirt; the abysmal brute is a FARMER, dismal plow, for money won't heat his hurt. Had I stayed away from that fatal fuv, and stood in my onion patch, I might have trod through the world till old, and never have known my match. But the dopesters name, and they said: 'The game he's doomed. If you don't come back!' So I left my squash, and my succotash, and my brown alfalfa stack, and I tried to feel that my thews of steel were good as they were of yore; but alas! one poke from that dusty smoke, and I saw that my youth was over!" And a lesson we in this life may see, and paste it inside our hats: If we go too gay when we're old and gray, we're apt to have broken slats. If we lend our ears to the sport who queers his friends for his own advance, we're apt to wake with the bellows, and find that our name is Pance.

Heart to Heart

Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

PROTECT YOUR GIRL.

Girls must not run in races exceeding fifty yards in length. They must not compete in violent exercise, such as high jumping, putting the shot, hurdle racing, and so on.

These are rules made by the directors of the Brooklyn Manual Training School.

The girls of the school planned an elaborate program of outdoor sports and were very indignant when these rules were posted.

They were obliged to content themselves with fifty yard races, baseball and basketball.

The girls do not understand.

They do not realize how easily a girl might permanently injure herself and unfit herself for the duties of wifehood and motherhood by violent exercise.

The physician understands.

The plain fact is that girls were not built by nature to withstand violent physical strain.

Man was built for such endurance, and the young man needs severe physical activity for purposes of physical development.

Even with young men, however, overstrain in athletic contests often has produced permanent injury. Many a star athlete has died young.

If young men are physically hurt by this exertion, much more many young women be injured thereby.

Womanhood spoils motherhood.

Woman is made capable by nature for the duties of motherhood, and that is sufficient strain for her sex. To require more is cruel and dangerous.

The state understands. Nowadays in almost every commonwealth young girls are protected by the laws from the stress of physical toil.

But many parents are slow to learn the dangers that attend their girls on account of overstrain.

For instance—

Many a young girl has been made a nervous wreck for life by "skipping the rope" to the point of physical exhaustion.

And there is the "Marathon dance," where prizes are given to the girl who dances the longest—a barbarism that should be punished by severe penalty.

See that your daughter is not injured by physical exercises, whether for labor or recreation, else you may commit by your neglect a crime against the girl and her future.

BALLINGER SCORES HIS FOES.

Gays Pinchot and Others Are Trying to Make Him Scapegoat.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 2.—In an interview here, Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the Interior, bitterly arraigned his enemies as "demagogues."

After saying that at Seattle, his old home, every one is his friend and that he went to Washington as secretary only after being long sought, Ballinger said:

"Pinchot, Garfield and that bunch have been after me, trying to make a scapegoat of me.

"The president and I have done all we could to make this administration a success. The president is heartily in favor of rational conservation, and so am I.

"I'll admit there are a lot of demagogues who would like to see a breach forced between Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft. It's just the way of things. But President Taft has been wise. He has taken a broad and liberal stand for constructive and up-building policies."

"Why, they are deluding the people of the east—absolutely fooling them. They employ figures with wanton abandon. They tell one country their resources are about gone. They suggest all sorts of absurdities."

You Have Heard the Other Fellow "Knock"

Many dentists take objections to me advertising and as it is an argument to get business which would otherwise come to me, I can see no possible harm in talking to the people through the newspaper. My aim in advertising is to acquaint people with my work and my prices. We all want business. Some people knock, others talk their own work. My principle is to give good work, moderate prices, and absolute satisfaction. If any patient has a complaint to make on their work I take care of them no matter what it costs me. Every patient that leaves this office is a satisfied customer.

PAYS FINE IN COURT FOR VIOLATING LAW

Warning to Boat and Launch Owners About Having Lights When Running at Night.

Charged with violating the city ordinance which requires that all owners display a light on their boats while cruising on the river within the city limits after dark, Herman Buchholz this morning pleaded guilty in municipal court and was fined $5 and costs, amounting in all to $7.25. The complaint was made by E. C. Bureau, whose launch, containing his family and that of F. S. Jackson, was nearly run down by the steamer Augustus Sunday evening. It is hoped that the suit will serve as a warning to those launch owners who have been in the habit of cruising on the river during the evening without displaying a warning light in a conspicuous place.

GAS NEARLY CAUSES YOUNG MAN'S DEATH

Was Unconscious When Found But Will Recover—Very Narrow Escape From Asphyxiation.

Ignorance of the death dealing properties of illuminating gas, an accident, or any of a number of similar reasons are said to be the cause of Henry Ness' narrow escape from death by asphyxiation yesterday in his room on the third floor of West Milwaukee street, and the Corn Exchange. He was in the room for several hours with the gas fully turned on, but the fact that the transom was slightly open saved his life.

Ness, who is seventeen years old and hails from Spooner, Wis., was employed by Harry Schmidley as waiter Sunday evening. Yesterday morning about half past eight, his employer showed Ness to a room on the third floor, lit the gas and left him. About half past six last night, Michael Flood, whose room is near the one occupied by the young man, noticed the odor of gas, and opening the door found the occupant unconscious with the gas jet wide open.

Flood immediately turned off the gas and notified Dr. James Gibson, who found that Ness was still breathing, and applied restoratives. The young man recovered consciousness this morning but is still very sick and unable to tell how the gas happened to be turned on. He is being cared for in a room adjoining his former quarters and is under the care of Mrs. Jane Rauh.

ARE DEMOCRATS TO HAVE NO TICKETS?

Time for Filing Nomination Papers is Drawing to a Close.

With but four days left to file nomination papers, the social democratic party is the only one to have a full list of candidates for nominations in the field at the present time. Only a few of the republican candidates have filed their nomination papers with County Clerk Howard W. Lee and none of the democrats. So far as can be learned, no democrats are circulating nomination papers.

Those republicans whose papers have been placed on file in the county clerk's office are, Jesse Karle, who seeks reelection as clerk of the circuit court; Howard W. Lee, who seeks reelection as county clerk; and Lawrence Whitte of Edgerton, who seeks reelection as assemblyman from the first district. E. H. Hanson of Bradford has filed his papers for the republican nomination for sheriff.

The social democrats have a complete ticket in the field and evidently intend to duplicate their victory in Milwaukee throughout the state. Their candidates are as follows:

Assemblyman, Second District—John Horn.
Assemblyman, Third District—Raymond Puddicombe.
County Clerk—William L. Huntington, Beloit.
Circuit Court—Jeremiah C. Frusher, Beloit.
Coroner—Arthur Christensen, Beloit.
County Surveyor—Frank Foote, Town of Bradford.
Register of Deeds—Clarence T. Kimball, Beloit.
Treasurer—Frank Hencke, Town of Turtle.
Sheriff—Orval Yoder, Beloit.

REMAINS BROUGHT HERE LAST NIGHT

Body of Late James Ryan, Who Died in Chicago, Brought Here for Burial.

The remains of James Ryan, who died suddenly of heart disease at the home of his uncle, P. W. Shay, in Chicago on Sunday, were brought here last evening. Mr. Ryan had been working near Chicago since July 20 and Saturday afternoon went to his uncle's home. He was invited to remain over until Sunday morning and, as called up by Mrs. Ryan in this city by telephone and informed her that he would be home Sunday evening. He arose Sunday morning about eight o'clock to attend church at nine o'clock but was not feeling well and said he would not go to church until ten o'clock and went back to the room and lay down on the bed. Mr. and Mrs. Shay attended him at nine o'clock, returning about 10:30. Mrs. Shay went upstairs and found him there, and supposed he was sleeping, but received no answer when she spoke to him. Later Mr. Shay went up to the room to call Mr. Ryan down to dinner, but his call was not answered. Their fears were aroused and they found the body cold. A physician was summoned who said that Mr. Ryan had probably been dead for two hours.

The deceased was born in Pennsylvania fifty-five years ago. For over thirty years he has made his home in Janesville, having been engaged in the contracting business for the past seven years. Besides the grief-stricken widow he is survived by six children, a brother, P. W. Ryan of this city, and two sisters. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Catholic Order of Foresters. The funeral will be held at ten o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's church.

Mrs. Margaret Kemmett.
The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Kemmett will take place from St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock tomorrow morning.

Funeral services for John F. Abernethy were conducted from the late residence at 819 Western avenue this afternoon at two o'clock and at 2:45 from Oak Hill chapel, Rev. C. J. Koerner officiating. The funeral was a large one and many beautiful flowers showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Herman Schumacher, Ferdinand Schumacher, August Burmann, Charles Quade, August Dugga and Fritz Vogel acted as the pallbearers. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

Personal Notice.

MANY WORKMEN ARE BEING HIRED DAILY

Bassett and Echlin Factory is Now Running With Good Sized Force At Work.

Although there has been no settlement between the Bassett-Echlin Company and the members of the harness makers union who struck last May for a shorter working day at the old scale of wages, it is probable that the local plant will be running with a full force in the near future. For some time past, harness makers have been imported from various parts of the country and put at work in the factory, replacing those members of the union who went out when the national strike was called. 40 YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 2, 1870.—Jottings.—The Mutual baseball club returned this morning from their northern trip. Their last game was played yesterday with the Everett of Oshkosh, in which our club again came out victorious, but by a smaller difference than in the two previous games, the score standing 35 to 41. However, their tour has been a successful one, and they had every reason to feel elated over their achievements.

The engine of a freight train from the north, last evening, picked up a small calf somewhere between this place and Milton Junction, and brought it in on the pilot. The juvenile bovine jumped from its dangerous position as soon as the train stopped, and started off at a lively rate.

Rome, Aug. 2.—Marquês de Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the Vatican, left Rome one hour after presenting the note of Premier Canalejas officially announcing his recall to Madrid.

As yet no retaliatory measures have been taken by the church. Mgr. Vico still remains in Madrid as papal nuncio.

The statement issued by Premier Canalejas bearing on the controversy between the church and the state has been carefully perused by the Vatican officials, who wish it to be clearly understood that that part of the statement in which it is declared that the Holy See intended to concede to the Spanish government less than what was agreed to in 1904 is without foundation in fact.

Vatican Blames Canalejas. It is Canalejas, the Vatican declares, who now wants greater conces-

The Ticklemouse

—and his Sleepyland Adventures

By Roy Rathford Bailey with Davy and Dorfy

The Beaver Kidd

I DON'T like this sort of business, Uncle Tick," grumbled Willy Wishybeaver as the four swam back up the Montana stream in the moonlight. "It looks risky to me."

"What's the risk?" laughed his uncle, with a wink at Davy and Dorfy, swimming steadily beside him in the funny beaver dress of shining wet fur and paddle-like tails.

Willy shook his dripping head doubtfully. "I heard some things last night that you folks didn't," he said. "If you'd just stayed to see that deer-fight through it would have been just as much fun as going back there tonight, and twice as safe, I'm thinking. I'm afraid of pirates."

The Ticklebeaver laughed so hard at this that he swallowed a lot of water and came near drowning. "Pirates!" he spluttered, coughing. "Listen to the mouse! Who ever heard of pirates, in Beaverland?"

"I have," said Willy stoutly. "I heard the Boss Beaver telling some of the crew last night to look out for the Beaver Kidd."

His uncle stopped laughing at once. "Not really? Why, he's the wickedest pirate in the north woods. Are you sure you heard him right?"

"Sure as gnawing. The Boss Beaver was mighty uneasy, too, for fear he'd pounced on us before our house was roofed in. I tell you, I don't like it, the way those beavers acted last night."

They swam in silence to the new dam, and found the whole beaver colony hard at work. "Why so late?" asked the Boss Beaver, sharply. "Had to watch out for the Beaver Kidd." The Ticklemouse was hard to beat when it came to a quick reply.

The Boss Beaver dropped his voice to a hoarse whisper. "Fear anything? See any danger trail?"

"No, but I think we'd best be ready with a scheme to trap him. Why wouldn't this be the best way to fool him?" And Willy and the twins saw the older two swim out to the middle of the dam and talk earnestly for a long time. After a while the Boss Beaver called the tribe together for orders.

"Gather me a lot of willow withes," he said, "and make them fast to the dam, full length across the river, just below the water. And twist each with into a running noose at the free end."

Hardly had his orders been carried out when shrill cries from up the river told them the pirates were upon them. "Surrender!" roared a great, black beaver in a cocked hat with a skull-and-crossbones pinned on it. "Give up your stores of bark and twigs or die!"

True to their orders, the beaver tribe acted badly scared. With cries of fear they swam back to their dam, diving between the enemy's cruel teeth. With savage yells, the pirate crew flung themselves after them, only to ram their heads into the nooses and drown as they deserved.

"Uncle Tick, you did yourself proud!" cried Willy, after the Boss Beaver had thanked them before the whole happy tribe. "If ever a Captain Kidd needed hanging, it was this Beaver Kidd; and you've landed them all in the noose without even stopping to make them walk the plank!"

slons than those of 1904, on the plea that they were granted to the then premier, Maun, and that Canalejas believed them to be at that time insufficient.

In answer to this the holy see reverts that it deals with the Spanish government, not with parties in the cortex.

Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has prepared all the documents in the controversy for publication in a white book, if the premier issues a red book on the subject.

New Support for Premier.

Madrid, Aug. 2.—With Catholics at Rome expressing hopes that Don Jaime, the Carlist pretender, may raise the standard of revolt and the Catholics of the Basque provinces also in insurrection, and with the Socialists in Spain threatening disorder, the impartial, which hitherto has been unfriendly to Premier Canalejas, ranges itself upon the side of the government in the pending conflict with the Vatican.

King and Queen Leave Spain.

San Sebastian, Spain, Aug. 2.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria left to pay a visit to the royal family in England. They will stop on the way at Rambouillet, France, to visit President Fallieres of the French republic.

GRAND TRUNK STRIKE SPREADS TO SWITCHMEN

Freight Yards at All Centers Will Probably Be Scrambled of Further Trouble.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—All freight yards, Chicago included, along the line of the Grand Trunk railroad will likely be the scenes of further trouble in the strike on that road.

At a meeting in Chicago of the local members of the Switchmen's Union of America it was voted to support the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and to call out every switchman on the Grand Trunk. The first strike call will be issued today.

A concerted movement on the part of railroad men to secure higher wages on fifty-six railroad lines in the middle west and west has been inaugurated.

At a meeting held at the Great Northern hotel, representatives of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on all the roads discussed the demand that will be made for a higher schedule. The meeting will continue several days and will work in accord with a similar convention which is being held by the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in St. Paul this week.

Columbus, O., Aug. 2.—Efforts of Governor Harmon to bring about a settlement of the Columbus street car strike proved unavailing.

When the governor told the unionists that the company was willing to settle if the question of recognition and the wearing of union buttons was waived, the union officials said they had rejected such a proposal before going out on strike, and would continue to reject it.
